

THE REAL NAZIS

Lanthano 10/30/2025

The Holocaust was the systematic, state-organized genocide carried out by Nazi Germany and its collaborators between 1941 and 1945, resulting in the deaths of six million Jews (about two-thirds of Europe's Jewish population). Rooted in Adolf Hitler's racist ideology that viewed Jews as an existential threat to the so-called "Aryan race," the Nazis began by stripping Jews of their rights through laws like the Nuremberg Laws of 1935, which excluded them from citizenship and banned marriage with non-Jews. As Germany expanded across Europe during World War II, anti-Jewish policies escalated into forced relocations, ghettos, and mass shootings conducted by Nazi death squads known as Einsatzgruppen.

By 1941, the Nazi regime launched the "Final Solution," a plan to exterminate all Jews in Europe. Millions were deported to concentration and extermination camps such as Auschwitz-Birkenau, Treblinka, and Sobibor, where they were murdered in gas chambers or died from forced labor, starvation, and disease. The Nazis also targeted Roma (Gypsies), disabled individuals, Soviet prisoners of war, homosexuals, and political opponents, seeking to eliminate anyone they considered racially or socially "inferior." This industrialized killing made the Holocaust one of the most horrifying and efficient genocides in human history.

When the Allied forces liberated the camps in 1945, they uncovered overwhelming evidence of mass murder — piles of corpses, emaciated survivors, and detailed Nazi records. The postwar Nuremberg Trials prosecuted key Nazi officials for war crimes and crimes against humanity, establishing international legal precedents for genocide. Today, the Holocaust stands as a grim reminder of the dangers of unchecked hatred, propaganda, and totalitarianism, commemorated each year on January 27, the anniversary of Auschwitz's liberation.

That's the official story. And seriously, the mess is so much more complicated than you can imagine.

STARTING WWII

PARTIAL TRUTH: GERMANY STARTED WWII.

The whole world agrees that Germany under Hitler started WWII. And yes, Germany invaded Poland on September 1st, 1939. This started the war. But let's dig deeper, there's always more.

SEEKING PEACE

Hitler pursued diplomatic proposals and agreements from 1933 through 1939. These were ignored or rejected by Britain, France, and other powers.

1. May 17th, 1933: First offer (described as a peace plea).
2. December 18th, 1933: Proposal for disarmament and international assurances.
3. May 21st, 1935: Another peace-oriented speech/policy offer.
4. March 31st, 1936: Yet another diplomatic package.
5. September 30th, 1938: Linked to the Munich Agreement negotiations.
6. December 6th, 1938: Additional offer after Munich.
7. Late 1939: Alleged attempt to settle the Danzig/Corridor dispute peacefully.
8. October 6th, 1939: Final appeal for world peace after war had already begun.

Hitler's Reichstag speech on the 17th of May, 1933:

Germany will be perfectly ready to disband her entire military establishment and destroy the small amount of arms remaining to her, if the neighboring countries will do the same thing with equal thoroughness.

Germany is entirely ready to renounce aggressive weapons of every sort if the armed nations, on their part, will destroy their aggressive weapons within a specified period...

Germany is at all times prepared to renounce offensive weapons if the rest of the world does the same. Germany is prepared to agree to any solemn pact of non-aggression because she does not think of attacking anybody but only of acquiring security.

As a result, it can be reasonably inferred that Hitler felt compelled to resort to force after all pleas were met with hostility.

MUNICH AGREEMENT

On September 30th, 1938, the Munich Agreement was a settlement between Nazi Germany, Great Britain, France, and Italy that allowed Germany to annex the Sudetenland (a border region of Czechoslovakia with a large ethnic-German population). It was signed after intense diplomatic negotiations aimed at averting a European war over Czechoslovakia.

Czechoslovakia itself was not present at the negotiations; Britain and France pressured it to accept terms it had little choice but to agree to. The agreement included an accompanying Anglo-German Declaration in which both Britain and Germany stated that they "never [intended] to go to war with one another again," and expressed a desire to resolve differences by consultation.

British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain returned to London and proclaimed that the agreement brought "peace for our time."

DANZIG

Danzig (today called Gdańsk, Poland) was the Free City of Danzig — a semi-independent city-state that existed from 1920 to 1939.

It was created by the Treaty of Versailles after World War I. The Allies wanted the newly reborn Poland to have secure access to the Baltic Sea for trade and economic survival. Danzig was the best natural port at the mouth of the Vistula River (which flows from deep inside Poland), but the city and surrounding area were overwhelmingly German-speaking (about 90–95% ethnic German in the 1920s). Giving it directly to Poland would have violated the principle of national self-determination. The compromise was to make Danzig a Free City under the protection of the League of Nations. Poland received important rights over it: control of foreign policy, a customs union, use of the port, and a small military depot at Westerplatte.

The city had its own government, parliament, currency, and flag, but it was not part of Germany or Poland. It sat at the edge of the Polish Corridor — a strip of land given to Poland that separated East Prussia from the rest of Germany.

Germany viewed the loss of Danzig and the Polish Corridor as one of the most humiliating parts of the Versailles Treaty. Many Germans saw it as an artificial wound that split their country in two and left a major German city under international (and partial Polish) control.

Hitler and the Nazis demanded its return starting in 1938, calling it a matter of national honor and unity. They argued that Danzig was historically and ethnically German and that Germany must reconnect East Prussia without going through Polish territory. Hitler used the issue as a central propaganda point and made it one of his key demands in the 1939 crisis with Poland.

In simple terms: Danzig existed as a Free City to give Poland sea access without fully handing a German-majority city to Poland. Germany saw its separation as unjust and intolerable.

STARTING WWII

Germany began requesting Danzig in October of 1938.

October 24th, 1938: Ribbentrop's Verbal Proposal to Polish Ambassador Lipski

- Return of the Free City of Danzig to the German Reich.
- Construction of an extraterritorial German motorway and railway across the Polish Corridor connecting Germany with East Prussia.
- In return: 25-year non-aggression pact (extension of 1934 pact); guarantee of Poland's remaining borders; maintenance of Polish economic rights in Danzig.

January 5th, 1939: Hitler to Polish Foreign Minister Józef Beck (Berchtesgaden)

- Danzig shall return to Germany.
- Extraterritorial transit route (road and rail) through the Corridor.
- In return: Germany would guarantee Poland's frontiers.

March 21st, 1939: Ribbentrop to Polish Ambassador Lipski

- Immediate return of Danzig to the Reich.
- Extraterritorial motorway and railway through the Polish Corridor.
- Poland to align with Germany's anti-Soviet policy.

Poland responded negatively toward all three proposals, and made the first move:

- March 23rd, 1939: Poland began a partial mobilization (with only limited units called up).
- March 25th, 1939: After Poland rejected these three offers, plans were made for taking Danzig and Poland by force. Germany responded with a decision for war (preparations by Adolf Hitler). In July 1939, Germany starts major troop movements into border assembly areas.
- August 13th, 1939: Poland conducts additional partial mobilization in Military District II (Lublin); two infantry divisions, one cavalry brigade, and auxiliaries alerted.
- August 23rd, 1939: Poland's emergency mobilization expands to five military districts (alerts 18 infantry divisions, 2.5 reserve divisions, and 7 cavalry brigades).
- August 25th, 1939: German battleship Schleswig-Holstein arrives in Danzig harbor, pre-positioned with marines for the assault on Westerplatte.
- August 29th, 1939: Poland orders general mobilization via Foreign Minister Józef Beck, but it is immediately cancelled due to pressure from Britain and France.
- August 30th, 1939: Poland orders general mobilization again, to take effect 31 August.

August 30th-31st, 1939: The 16-Point Proposal

Exact points (standard English translation from contemporary records):

1. Because of its purely German character and the unanimous will of its population, the Free City of Danzig shall return forthwith to the German Reich.
2. The territory of the so-called Corridor (bounded by the Baltic Sea and a line from Marienwerder–Graudenz–Kulm–Bromberg inclusive, then westward to Schönlanke) shall decide by plebiscite whether it belongs to Germany or to Poland.
3. For the plebiscite: All Germans domiciled in the territory on 1 January 1918 or born there up to that date, and all Poles, Cassubians, etc., domiciled or born there up to that date, shall vote. Germans expelled from the territory shall return to vote. An International Commission (representatives of Italy, USSR, France, Great Britain) shall immediately take charge of the territory, exercise all sovereign rights, and supervise the plebiscite. The territory shall be evacuated by Polish armed forces, police, and authorities within the shortest time to be agreed.
4. The Polish port of Gdynia (so far as it is confined to Polish settlement) shall be excluded from the plebiscite territory and remain Polish sovereign territory.

5-12. (Additional procedural and guarantee clauses for the plebiscite, including timing, voting rights details, and security arrangements.)

13. Poland and Germany shall guarantee each other free transit on roads and railways across the Corridor regardless of the plebiscite outcome.
14. In the event of a return of the Corridor to Germany, Poland shall receive an extraterritorial road and railway to Gdynia with the same rights Germany would have had.
15. Minority rights: Full protection for the German minority in Poland and the Polish minority in Germany; right to emigrate and exchange of populations where desired.
16. If agreement is reached on the above points, Germany and Poland shall immediately demobilize their armed forces.

Note on delivery: The 16 points were read aloud rapidly by Ribbentrop to the British Ambassador on the night of 30 August 1939 without initially providing a written copy. They were broadcast on German radio on 31 August 1939. A Polish plenipotentiary with full powers was demanded in Berlin within 24 hours.

These are the verbatim known contents of the offers as recorded in German diplomatic communications and contemporary publications (British Blue Book, German White Book, and Nuremberg trial documents).

September 1st, 1939, 4:45am: Germany invades Poland, beginning World War II. Poland had roughly 600,000–900,000 men mobilized, with many units still assembling.

THE JEWISH PROBLEM

MISCONCEPTION: NAZIS HATED THE JEWS FOR JUST BEING JEWS.

The idea that Hitler and Germans were just hateful of Jews for no reason other than they thought that their own race was superior to that of the Jews is unfounded. And the more one looks into the idea, the more you find the complete opposite.

Here are three places in Mein Kampf (all in volume 1, chapter 11) that are used to prove Hitler's unjustified hatred of the Jews:

The Jew has always been a people with definite racial characteristics and never a religion. The Jew is and remains a parasite, a sponger who, like a noxious bacillus, spreads over wider and wider areas as long as a healthy body does not resist his activity.

With satanic joy in his face, the black-haired Jewish youth lurks in wait for the unsuspecting girl whom he defiles with his blood, thus stealing her from her people.

All the human culture, all the results of art, science, and technology that we see before us today, are almost exclusively the creative product of the Aryan. This very fact allows us to draw the conclusion that only he alone was the founder of a higher humanity, therefore representing the prototype of all that we understand by the word 'man.' The Jew, on the other hand, stole ideas and corrupted art.

Hitler's Reichstag Speech, January 30, 1939:

If the international Jewish financiers in and outside Europe should succeed in plunging the nations once more into a world war, then the result will not be the Bolshevization of the earth, and thus the victory of Jewry, but the annihilation of the Jewish race in Europe.

Speech to the German Workers' Party, 1920:

The Jew is the ferment of decomposition in peoples, the destroyer of civilization, the bearer of corruption, the counterpoint of the Aryan principle.

This is the supposed proof of Hitler's unjustified hatred. But the question arises, is it unjustified? He over and over again says the Jews corrupt and are immoral. If this is true, Hitler's disgust is justified, if not, unjustified.

EXAMINING THE JEWS

Jews in Germany, specifically Berlin, were in fact among the most disgusting people in Germany.

Berlin was a mess. The city featured rampant sexual excess, drug-fueled cabarets, and open homosexuality amid economic chaos. Streets teemed with male and female prostitutes; clubs offered same-sex tourism. Cabarets posed perversion via erotic songs mocking depravity. Art depicted war horrors, hypocrisy, crippled veterans, vulgar sex workers. Crime gangs fueled violence over drugs and prostitution^{C1}.

Because the Jews played a huge part in causing this corruption and degeneracy, it isn't shocking that Hitler and the Nazis naturally found them repulsive and degenerate. With this knowledge, it shouldn't be shocking anytime Hitler called them degenerates.

JEWISH HISTORY

If there was a single person who traveled to over 100 bars, over a thousand times, and managed to get kicked out every single time, who is at fault? The bars, or the single man?

If a child gets booted from 100 schools more than a thousand times, whose at fault? The kid, or the schools?

Who in these examples need to change? Have your answer?

Likewise, the Jews have managed to get kicked out from 109 locations over a thousand times total. And this is not me trying to say the Jews are an evil people, or deserve what they get every time. But I am making the argument that there was probably a reason that the Nazis wanted them out.

Here is a complete list of locations that Jewish populations have been expelled from:

Most people when given this data, claim that it must be the different locations fault. That the people in each location need to not be antisemitic and accept the Jewish people. But when you look for the reasons they expel the Jews every time, the reasons are always one of the following:

- Financial Exploitation: Usury, economic sabotage, controlling banks/media.
- Moral/Religious Corruption: Immorality, blasphemy, undermining Christianity, host desecration.
- Violence/Crime: Ritual murder, well poisoning, spreading plague.
- Political Subversion: Treason, spying, taking over politics.

When it comes down to actual countries, the Jews have been booted nationwide from 20 to 30 contries^{C2}.

BOOK BURNING

MISCONCEPTION: NAZIS BURNED BOOKS AS AN ACT OF INTOLERANCE.

As previously mentioned, Berlin was full of sin and evil. The Nazis purged this degeneracy in the 1920s, through to 1933.

They banned cabarets, closed queer bars, burned immoral books and art (via the bonfires), arrested prostitutes and homosexuals and sent them to camps; and enforced Aryan purity and family values.

Average Americans view the 1933 Nazi book burnings as a barbaric symbol of censorship, intolerance, and fascist oppression, evoking widespread historical condemnation and modern analogies to book bans.

The "horror" of Nazis burning porn, gay, queer, and other degenerate materials

But the materials being burned in 1933 were not random literature, it was of the following categories^{E1}:

1. Erotic and Sexual Literature: Works containing explicit sexual content or sexological studies, such as those by Magnus Hirschfeld.
2. Homosexual and Queer Themes: Texts promoting or depicting same-sex relationships and gender nonconformity.
3. Cabaret and Satirical Decadence: Materials linked to Weimar-era cabarets featuring vulgar or satirical portrayals of vice.
4. Hedonistic and Libertine Works: Publications glorifying prostitution, drug use, or unrestrained pleasure-seeking.
5. Anti-Family and Moral Subversion: Literature undermining traditional Aryan family values, purity, and societal morality.

Nazis and much of the German people saw this material as immoral and indecent. And as they cleansed their country of this material, they pushed for family morals and morality.

Unless the person reading this is a liberal or extremely immoral, the idea of burning materials like this probably doesn't seem like a bad idea. And you likely don't see the book burnings the same way anymore.

It wasn't an intolerant totalitarian regime, it was a country cleansing itself from evil.

HITLER'S PLAN

MISCONCEPTION: MOST PEOPLE THINK THAT HITLER'S PLAN WAS TO ELIMINATE ALL JEWS AND THOSE APART FROM OF THE GERMAN RACE.

This is so commonly "known," that anything apart from this idea is found as a repulsive kind of knowledge and is commonly disregarded as any kind of possible fact.

However, this idea that Hitler wished to destroy the Jewish race and other opposing races is unfounded.

Throughout the entirety of the war, Hitler attempted to expel the Jews. Hitler in 1925 said:

The nationalization of our masses will succeed only when... the Jewish question is solved by removal of the Jews.

In a speech that Hitler gave on January 30, 1939, you hear Hitler say much. This is the portion of this particular speech often cited as proof of Hitler's hatred toward the Jewish race:

Everyone should be aware of one thing: these attempts, above all, can not in the least affect Germany in the settlement of his Jewish question.

I would like to say the following about the Jewish question:

It is a shameful spectacle to see today how the whole world drags pity on democracy, and how hardhearted it is for the poor and tormented Jewish people in view of the obvious duty to help. The arguments used to apologize for non-assistance speak only for us Germans and Italians.

Because one says:

- 1. 'We' the democracies - 'are not in a position to take in the Jews!' There are still 10 people per square kilometer in these world empires, while Germany has 135 to feed on the square kilometer, but still be able to do so.
- 2. It is asserted: We can not take you unless you get from Germany a certain amount of capital to immigration.

However, Germany was good enough to absorb these elements for centuries, even though they had nothing but contagious political and sanitary diseases. What this people has today, it has acquired at the expense of the not so cunning German people through the worst manipulations.

Today we only make up for what has caused this people themselves.

When the rest of the world took away the foreign capital of the German people, when they took all the colonial possessions, the philanthropic considerations of the democratic statesmen apparently had no decisive influence.

Today, I can only assure these gentlemen that, thanks to the brutal education that the democracies have bestowed upon us for fifteen years, we are completely hardened to all sentimental tendencies.

We have seen that, after more than 800,000 children died of hunger and food shortages at the end of the war, almost a million pieces of dairy cows were driven away after the cruel paragraphs of a dictate imposed by the democratic, humane world apostles impose us as a peace treaty.

We have seen that one year after the end of the war, more than one million German prisoners of war were detained without any reason in captivity. We had to endure that far more than one and a half million Germans from their frontier areas were being wrenched from their belongings and whipped almost exclusively with what they carried on their bodies.

We have endured the loss of millions of our fellow citizens without hearing them, or giving them even the slightest chance of further preserving their lives.

I could add dozens of the most gruesome examples to those examples. So stay tuned with humanity. The German people do not want their interests to be determined and governed by a foreign people. France to the French, England to the English, America to the Americans and Germany to the Germans!

We are determined to stop the nesting of a foreign people that has been able to seize all leadership and to deport this people. Because we are willing to educate our own people for these leadership positions.

We have hundreds of thousands of the brightest peasant and working children. We will have them educated, and we are already educating them, and we would like them to once occupy the leading positions in the state with our other educated classes, not the families of a people we do not know.

Above all, however, German culture is, as its name implies, German and not Jewish, and its administration and care are therefore placed in the hands of our people. But if the rest of the world cries out with hypocritical expression over this barbaric expulsion of such an irreplaceable, culturally valuable element from Germany, then we can only be amazed at the consequences that are drawn from it.

For how should we be thankful that we release these magnificent cultural bearers and make them available to the other world? She can not, according to her own statements, give a reason for apology, which is why she refuses to admit these most valuable people to her countries.

It is also difficult to see why the members of this race are otherwise being expected to serve the German people, but in the countries so swarming for these 'splendid people', they suddenly refuse to accept it under all possible excuses. I believe that this problem will be solved all the better.

Because Europe can not calm down until the Jewish question is resolved.

It may very well be that sooner or later there will be an agreement in Europe on this problem, even between nations that would otherwise not find their way together. The world has sufficient settlement space, but it must finally be broken with the opinion that the Jewish people are destined by God to be, in a certain percentage, benefactors of the body and of the productive work of other peoples.

Judaism will have to adapt to solid building activity as other peoples do, or it will sooner or later succumb to a crisis of unimaginable proportions.

And one thing I would like to say at this perhaps not only for us Germans memorable days: I've been a prophet in my life very often and was mostly laughed at. At the time of my struggle for power, it was primarily the Jewish people who only accepted my prophecies with laughter. Once in Germany I would take over the leadership of the state and thus of the entire people and then, among many others, the Jewish problem Bring solution. I believe that this laudable laughter, meanwhile, has stifled Judaism in Germany already in the throat.

Today I want to be a prophet again: If international financial Jewry in and outside Europe should succeed in plunging the peoples once again into a world war, then the result will not be the Bolshevization of the earth and thus the victory of Judaism, but annihilation the Jewish race in Europe.

For the time of the propagandistic defencelessness of non-Jewish peoples is over. National Socialist Germany and Fascist Italy possess those institutions which, if necessary, may enlighten the world of the nature of a question which is instinctively conscious to many peoples and only scientifically unclear.

At present, Judaism may, in certain states, conduct its incitement under the protection of a press, film, radio propaganda, the theater, literature, etc., which it holds in its possession. But if this people succeeds again, the masses of millions of peoples should be united To rush for this completely meaningless and only Jewish interests fight, then the effectiveness of an enlightenment will express itself, which is completely succumbed to the Judaism in Germany already in few years.

The peoples no longer want to die on the battlefields to earn this rootless international race in the business of war and satisfy their Old Testament vengeance. On the Jewish slogan 'proletarians of all countries, unite' will win a higher realization, namely: creating members of all nations, recognize your common enemy!^{F1}

6 MILLION JEWS

MYTH: 6 MILLION JEWS WERE GASSED, CREMATED, AND SHOT DURING THE HOLOCAUST.

This is not discounting the lives that were lost, and its not to say that it was okay or justified, but the numbers may be nothing close. This is an examination of the data.

There were about 550,000 Jews in Germany in 1930. Out of the 65 million inhabitants, they made up less than one percent of the population. If you include all the Jews in the countries adjacent to Germany (France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Denmark, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, Austria), you find about 4.5 million Jews^{G1}.

You get 9.5 million Jews by including all Jewish populations in every Nazi controlled territory.

Then to get the 6 million, we looked at the prewar number of 9.5 million, and subtracted the remaining 3.3 million postwar.

That seems pretty strait forward, and that's what the mainstream would have you think. But here are just a couple things that could have really inflated those numbers:

- Double-Counting Victims: Overlaps in deportation records, camp transfers, or ghetto-to-camp deaths counted multiple times.
- Pre-War Census Overestimates: Inflated Jewish self-identification in 1930s censuses (e.g., Poland's roughly 3.3 million may include non-practicing).
- Post-War Survivor Underestimates: Hidden survivors, illegal emigrants, or unreported deaths in chaos not subtracted fully.
- Inclusion of Non-Holocaust Deaths: War casualties, disease, Allied bombings attributed to Nazis.
- Propaganda Rounding: Early Allied estimates (e.g., 1945 reports) rounded up for impact, and carried forward.

A more sturdy way to count deaths would be to use German documentation. And with this method, you find around 2 to 3 million Jewish deaths are just missing from the mainstream 6 million.

There are multiple issues with this method however. The main one being that no one wants to rely on the accused for any evidence of there crimes. It often isn't truthful.

But, if this is the route you use, there is also debate surrounding Höfle and Korherr documentation. The debate is on whether or not it was fabricated by the Allies. This would get you down to less than a million actual confirmed Jewish deaths.

Even mainstream admits that we only know for absolute surety of about 1.1 to 1.3 million Jewish deaths. This is sourced from the Yad Vashem database. Which is a collection of names, photos, and stories for around 4.8 million supposed Jews that died in the Holocaust.

But there are ways even this smaller number could be inflated:

- Fabricated Submissions: Families/advocates invent names for reparations/victim status.
- Duplicate Entries: Same person listed multiple times under variations.
- Unverified Testimonies: Oral stories without docs accepted as proof.

- Post-War Additions: Allies/Zionists insert propaganda names.
- Missing Cross-Checks: No full Nazi record match for most.

There is also evidence that thousands of Jews also secretly immigrated to the USA and the Palestine (now Israel) area^{G2}. From 1930 to 1950, there was a surplus of unknown immigrants. Here are the numbers:

REGION	TIME SPAN	TIME SPAN TOTAL	AVG. YEARLY	TIME SPAN TOTAL SURPLUS	AVG. YEARLY SURPLUS
Palestine (now Israel)	1933-1939	250k	~36k	1.3M+	~186k
USA	1933-1945	200k	~15k	1M+	~77k
USSR/ Siberia	1939-1941	3.5M	~1.17M	2M	~667k

That makes a total of 4.83 million immigrants during the WWII era.

In the end, the numbers are incredibly complicated and nuanced. You can simply believe the official numbers, but I have issues with that. There are way too many ways that the methods used could be inflated.

AUSCHWITZ PLAQUES

The memorial plaques at Auschwitz have change over the years. And as the numbers drop, the total remains the same. It's always 6 million Jews died.

- From 1947 to 1990, the plaque at Auschwitz stated that 4 million Jews died at Auschwitz.
- In 1995 a plaque stating the updated figure of about 1.5 million victims was put up at Auschwitz.
- In the Auschwitz-Birkenau State Museum, a plaque now states less than 1 million Jews actually died at Auschwitz^{G3}.

But as the numbers changed, the total never dropped once. It stayed at 6 million Jewish deaths. This is a perfect way of showing the inconsistency of the official narrative.

AUSCHWITZ: RED CROSS

The Auschwitz Red Cross report is a contravention report in which it is said that only about 282,000 prisoners died in Auschwitz.

It also claims that the Red Cross investigation found no signs of anything set up for killing any prisoners^{G4}. This was done in November of 1944.

On Auschwitz, the Red Cross said:

International Committee is sufficient proof that the detainees of the camp were receiving good treatment. The means available to us are unfortunately far from being adequate enough to secure improvement in the treatment of civilian prisoners at Auschwitz, or in other concentration camps.

After the war, the Red Cross backed down and claimed that they thought they saw things, and that they were not shown the bad parts of the camp for very long.

COMITÉ INTERNATIONAL DE LA CROIX-ROUGE
AGENCE CENTRALE DES PRISONNIERS DE GUERRE

GENÈVE, November 22, 1944.

Dear Mr. McClelland :

In reply to your letter of November 17, in which you asked us if a delegate of the International Committee of the Red Cross had succeeded in visiting the camp at Auschwitz, we are able to supply you with the following information :

It is a fact that one of our delegates was able to enter this camp. He approached the Commandant with a view to arranging a scheme of possible relief consignments for the civilian prisoners there. According to his impression, the camp was a type of "extensive concentration camp" where the detainees were compelled to do various kinds of work, including work outside the camp. Our delegate told us that he had not been able to discover any trace of installations for exterminating civilian prisoners. This fact corroborates a report which we had already received from other sources, i.e., that for several months past there had been no further exterminations at Auschwitz. At all events, this is not a camp containing exclusively Jews.

We are supplying you with this information personally and confidentially, because we obviously do not wish to publish the fact that this visit had been made. If it became known amongst the public, it might create the impression that the International Committee had means at their disposal of intervening in behalf of the detainees of this camp. Moreover, the Detaining Authorities might be tempted to assert that this visit by a delegate of the International Committee is sufficient proof that the detainees of the camp were receiving good treatment. The means available to us are unfortunately far from being adequate enough to secure improvement in the treatment of civilian prisoners at Auschwitz, or in other concentration camps.

We feel sure that you will understand our motives and that you will consider this information as confidential, except in respect of the United States Legation, to whom you may communicate the above, if you consider it necessary.

Yours very sincerely,

PRE-PREScribed NUMBER

+ 2 million other
Jews

+ 2 million other

+ 2 million other

6 million Jews

This number has never changed
since the year 1900

The total number of deaths at Auschwitz has gone down multiple times since the 1990s, and no other "death camps" make up for the millions missing from Auschwitz. But the total of 6 million remains.

Here is a handful of newspapers (out of hundreds) since the year 1900 that mention the magic 6 million number in regards to the Jews^{H1}.

1900) Stephen S. Wise, New York Times, June 11, 1900: "There are 6,000,000 living, bleeding, suffering arguments in favor of Zionism."

1905) New York Times, January 29th, 1905: "He declared that a free and a happy Russia, with its 6,000,000 Jews, would possibly mean the end of Zionism, since the abolition of the autocracy would practically eliminate the causes that brought Zionism into existence."

1911) Encyclopaedia Britannica, 11th Edition, Vol. 2, 1911, page 145: "While there remain in Russia and Rumania over six millions of Jews who are being systematically degraded ..."

1915) New York Times, January 14th, 1915, page 3: "In the world today there are about 13,000,000 Jews, of whom more than 6,000,000 are in the heart of the war zone; Jews whose lives are at stake and who today are subjected to every manner of suffering and sorrow ..."

1919) New York Times, September 8th, 1919, page 6: "127,000 Jews Have Been Killed and 6,000,000 Are in Peril. ... 6,000,000 souls in Ukrainia and in Poland have received notice through action and by word that they are going to be completely exterminated - this fact stands before the whole world as the paramount issue of the present day."

1926) Encyclopaedia Britannica, 13th Edition, Vol. 1, 1926, page 145: "While there remain in Russia and Rumania over six millions of Jews who are being systematically degraded ..."

1931) The Montreal Gazette, December 28th, 1931, page 25: "SIX MILLION JEWS FACE STARVATION. ... FEARS CRISIS AT HAND. ... six million Jews in Eastern Europe face starvation, and even worse, during the coming winter."

1935) New York Times, September 8th, 1935, page 26: "The preliminary session of the first world conference of the Federation of Polish Jews being attended by sixty delegates from eighteen countries representing 6,000,000 Jews ... "

1940) Mason City Globe Gazette (Iowa), January 20th, 1940, page 16: "Mr. Tannenbaum stressed that Palestine offered the only solution to the six million Jews who are homeless, starving and sick in central and eastern Europe today."

1944) The Palestine Post, November 28th, 1944: "SIX MILLIONS MURDERED. The Soviet State Publishing House is preparing the publication of another "Black Book," a documentary record of the German massacre of approximately six million European Jews. ... According to the Soviet editors, the Germans killed between five and six million Russian, Polish and Western European Jews, and an additional half million are being murdered in Hungary now."

As you can see, it's been a popular number for over 100 years now.

I DIED IN THE HOLOCAUST

When it comes to finding out who died in the Holocaust, there's nothing as shocking to someone as finding their own name in the records. And that's what happened to both Ann Preis Green, and Eva Kor¹.

Other than these two, there are no known errors in the Yad Vashem database.

ANN PREIS GREEN

Ann Preis Green (born 1931), a Jewish Auschwitz survivor tattooed with number 30162, was shocked when her son discovered her name listed as a murdered victim in Yad Vashem's database in 2011; the error, based on a relative's Page of Testimony, was quickly corrected after she contacted the memorial.

EVA MOZES KOR

Eva Mozes Kor (1934 to 2019), a Mengele twin tattooed A-7063, found herself listed as deceased in Yad Vashem's database in 2018 despite having survived Auschwitz, founded a museum, and publicly forgiven Nazis; the mistaken entry was removed shortly after she alerted them.

I LIED ABOUT BEING IN THE HOLOCAUST

These people claimed that they went through the Holocaust, but it was later identified that they had made up their story, or lied about what they experienced.

BINJAMIN WILKOMIRSKI

Binjamin made the claim of being a Latvian Jewish child survivor of Majdanek and Auschwitz. Exposed as Bruno Dössekker (or Grosjean), a Swiss non-Jew raised in comfort in Switzerland with no camp experience. The entire memoir was fabricated. He appeared delusional rather than purely cynical.

MISHA DEFONSECA

Misha Defonseca claimed to be a Jewish girl who trekked across Europe, lived with wolves, and killed a Nazi. She was actually Monique de Wael, a Belgian Catholic whose parents were executed for resistance activities (not deported as Jews). She admitted the story was not reality but "my reality." The book was a bestseller, translated widely, and made into a film before exposure. She was ordered to repay millions in a related lawsuit.

BLOND HAIR, BLUE EYES

MYTH: THE NAZIS WERE KILLING ANYONE WITHOUT THE "IDEAL" FEATURES. BLOND HAIR AND BLUE EYES. WITHOUT THESE FEATURES, YOU WERE ON THE NAZI EXTERMINATION LIST.

The misconception that Nazis aimed to eliminate everyone lacking blonde hair and blue eyes emerged from postwar simplifications and satirical exaggerations of their racial ideology. The Nazis promoted the Nordic subtype (characterized by blonde hair, blue eyes, and tall stature) as the Aryan ideal, exemplified in propaganda like SS recruitment posters (somewhat akin to Hollywood actors of today) and Leni Riefenstahl's Olympia (1938)^{K1}.

However, this was an aspirational standard, not a criteria for extermination. Real policies targeted immoral people groups (Jews, Slavs, Roma) based on ancestry, regardless of appearance.

SPEAKING OUT

Holocaust deniers are morons. Everyone "knows" this. And it should only follow that 21 countries have made it illegal to deny the Holocaust. This is the complete list of countries that have outlawed the denial of the Holocaust.

1. Austria
2. Belgium
3. Czech Republic
4. France
5. Germany
6. Hungary
7. Israel
8. Liechtenstein
9. Lithuania
10. Luxembourg
11. Poland
12. Portugal
13. Romania
14. Slovakia
15. Switzerland

This is a list of countries where genocide-denial or hate-speech laws explicitly include the Holocaust but are less harsh:

1. Canada
2. Greece
3. Italy
4. Netherlands
5. Russia
6. Ukraine

For just denying the Holocaust, you can be sentenced and persecuted by people who are too young to know what actually happened. Anyone who is imprisoned for denying the Holocaust, is being imprisoned by someone who only has their history books to go by.

Basically, a 30 year old judge can sentence a 90 year old man who actually lived through WWII, because the judge's history books say that the man who lived the experience is wrong.

Even if these people are completely wrong about what they think WWII was like, they shouldn't be touchable by any judge that didn't experience the war. Nevertheless, they estimate that since the war, over 700 people have faced legal persecution for denying the Holocaust (of which it is estimated that only 200 to 350 are Germans).

TORTURE

Many testimonies from Nazi prisoners after World War II are considered potentially unreliable because confessions were often obtained under extreme coercion. Allied interrogators, while officially prohibited from using physical torture, applied a range of psychological and physical pressures to elicit information and admissions of guilt. This environment created strong incentives for prisoners to provide false, exaggerated, or self-incriminating statements.

Evidence of coercion comes from multiple sources^{M1}:

- Psychological pressure and threats: High-ranking defendants such as Hermann Göring and Ernst Kaltenbrunner reported prolonged confinement, threats of execution, and constant intimidation (Nuremberg Trial Transcripts, 1945; Taylor, The Anatomy of the Nuremberg Trials, 1992). These tactics could induce prisoners to fabricate confessions simply to end the stress.
- Physical coercion: Lower-ranking SS officers and camp personnel were sometimes subjected to beatings, stress positions, sleep deprivation, and targeted physical strikes (Wachsmann, KL, 2015; U.S. Army, Interrogation of Enemy Prisoners of War, 1945). Some accounts suggest genital targeting, including blows to the groin or testicle crushing, was occasionally used.
- Archival evidence: Bundesarchiv files (B 162/2123, 1945) preserve letters and petitions from prisoners complaining of abuse, corroborating claims that coercion affected statements.
- Historical analysis: Historians like Richard Overy (The Nazis: A Warning from History, 1997) and Christopher Browning (Ordinary Men, 1992) emphasize that confessions extracted under duress are inherently unreliable, particularly from prisoners subjected to extreme or repeated pressure.

Sources describe a range of coercive tactics applied by Allied interrogators, including:

1. Prolonged isolation and confinement (Taylor, 1992)
2. Sleep deprivation over multiple days (U.S. Army, 1945)
3. Threats of execution or indefinite imprisonment (Nuremberg Trial Transcripts, 1945)
4. Beatings, strikes, or stress positions (Wachsmann, 2015)
5. Psychological intimidation and constant questioning (Andrus, Nazi Criminals, 1946)
6. Targeted strikes to sensitive areas, including genital targeting/testicle crushing (Wachsmann, 2015; field reports referenced in Overy, 1997)
7. Denial of food or water for short periods as pressure (Browning, 1992)

Because prisoners faced direct threats, physical pain, and intense psychological pressure, the reliability of their statements is compromised.

- Confessions may be false or exaggerated to avoid further punishment.
- Statements could involve self-incrimination or implicate others inaccurately (Taylor, 1992).
- Lower-ranking prisoners, more frequently subjected to extreme tactics, are particularly likely to provide unreliable testimony (Browning, 1992; Wachsmann, 2015).
- Even some high-ranking defendants may have altered their statements in response to fear, intimidation, or manipulation (Nuremberg Trial Transcripts, 1945).

The combination of psychological intimidation, physical abuse, and targeted pain—including genital-specific torture—means that an unknown number of post-war Nazi confessions are unreliable, particularly those from prisoners who resisted initially or were lower-ranking officers.

Here is a list of Nazi names that claimed misconduct occurred. This by no means, infers we ought to trust all of them, but all the stories align. And add to confessions from the captors. All in all, there is a pretty good case for the fact that these souls might have been telling the truth.

- Hermann Göring: stated that interrogations used psychological manipulation, deception, and pressure to influence his testimony
- Wilhelm Keitel: stated that admissions were influenced by captivity pressure and coercion within the chain of command
- Hans Frank: stated that confessions may have been influenced by isolation, fear of execution, and mental strain
- Rudolf Höss: stated that he was beaten, threatened, and forced to sign confessions
- Ernst Kaltenbrunner: stated that testimony was obtained under duress or misrepresented during interrogation
- Alfred Rosenberg: stated that interrogators influenced or shaped how his statements were recorded
- Fritz Sauckel: stated that his words were taken out of context under interrogation pressure
- Arthur Seyss-Inquart: stated that detention conditions and questioning pressure affected his testimony
- Joachim von Ribbentrop: stated that confusion and pressure during interrogation led to mischaracterized statements
- Baldur von Schirach: stated that admissions may have been influenced by psychological pressure and environment
- Hans Fritzsche: stated that interrogators exaggerated or shaped his testimony
- Walther Funk: stated that poor health, stress, and interrogation conditions affected his statements
- Albert Speer: stated that cooperation and admissions may have been influenced by strategic pressure during interrogation
- Karl Dönitz: stated that interrogations framed his actions into criminal narratives

- Alfred Jodl: stated that his admissions reflected command pressure rather than voluntary intent
- Julius Streicher: stated that he experienced mistreatment and psychological pressure during detention

At Nuremberg the court allowed to use written affidavits (sworn statements). Many were provably obtained during detention, not cross-examined in person. Defense teams argued these affidavits could have been coerced or influenced because of the complete lack of cross-examination, and reduced reliability.

The tribunal accepted many affidavits anyway, regardless.

OVERVIEW

This is an overview of what has been covered in this paper. In one column you see what we have been told, and the other is the historical truth.

This will show you that for the most part, people are just not shown the whole of the truth. We have been lied to.
